MBK Tape Solutions Launches New Website

MBK Tapes Solutions, a leading global converter of pressure sensitive adhesive tape, is pleased to announce the launch of a newly redesigned website www.mbktape.com. Key features of the web site include a product catalog, and a new user interface focused on improving navigation and the overall customer experience.

The product catalog lists items that are typically stocked and is sorted by materials, applications and industries, making the website user friendly. Each converting service provides information that both the novice and the engineer will find helpful. In addition, videos and an extensive glossary of terms used in the adhesive tape and converting business is available.

In 2010, MBK Enterprises Inc. changed their name to MBK Tape Solutions to reflect their business. Along with the name change, came the need to update the website. Jeff Kaminski, President of MBK Tape Solutions, commented, "The new mbktape.com provides our customers with easy access to information about our products and services. We value our customers' time and want their experience on our website to be as efficient as possible."

MBK Enterprises Inc., founded in 1971, specializes in converting pressure sensitive adhesive tapes for industrial, medical, electronic and specialty markets. MBK Tape Solutions is headquartered in Chatsworth, California and sells adhesive tape products throughout the world.
